Larpcraft

Story wizard Framework questions

All 12 frameworks. Every story purpose. Archetype choices and relationship comparisons.

A printable reference to the questions currently used in your local application. Questions are exported from the live wizard functions, with their reference hints and available choices.

Prepared 17 October 2026

INCLUDED	HOW TO USE IT
8 story purposes	Begin with the opening questions for your selected purpose.
12 framework chapters	Follow the main question path, or use a purpose-specific variant.
8 archetype branches	Use the questions for the archetype you chose.
32 relationship pairs	Compare either archetype with every other role in its framework.

Contents

Each framework has a chapter below. Expand the PDF bookmarks to jump directly to its purposes and archetype branches.

How to use this reference 3

Opening questions for every framework 4

01 / FATE 6

02 / Kolb's Learning Cycle 8

03 / Human Values 11

04 / Haidt Moral Conflicts 17

05 / Descent and Recovery Arc 21

06 / Home, Voyage, Return 23

07 / Story Building System 25

08 / NLP Meta Programs - Preference Spectra 27

09 / NLP Meta Model - Language Spectrum 30

10 / MMPI-2 - Character Profile 34

11 / Jungian Feminine Archetypes 37

12 / Jungian Masculine Archetypes 44

How to use this reference

1. Choose your story purpose and answer its opening questions. Those openings are shared by every framework, so they appear once in the next section.

2. Turn to a framework chapter. Its main path follows the recommended starting purpose. Reference hints and choice buttons are printed with that path.

3. If you choose another purpose, use that purpose's variant. Identical question sets are grouped. When only a few questions change, the replacements are printed with their original question numbers; keep all other questions from the main path.

4. Archetype questions change after you select a role. Each archetype has its own full development questions. The later comparison tables contain the exact questions that change with purpose or with the second relationship role.

5. Keep your earlier answers beside you. The application records choices separately from your own notes and uses them to guide later development. This PDF contains the question bank, not your personal answers.

Questions are optional. A short answer is enough to begin. A reference is a writing aid; the fictional profile and archetype sections are not player assessments.

Export scope

This document covers frameworks only. Standalone concepts are not included. It reflects the local Larpcraft version on the date shown, including all eight purposes, even where a framework is an exploratory fit. Source files: frameworkQuestions.js, narrativeGuidance.js, narrativeMemory.js and FRAMEWORK_TYPES in seed.js.

Opening questions for every framework

Choose one purpose. Ask these opening questions first, then continue with the framework-specific questions in the relevant chapter.

Character

Motives, behaviour, strengths, limits, and change.

1. Who is this character, and what do they want right now?
2. What choice or pressure could reveal or change them?

Relationships & groups

Trust, conflict, roles, needs, and how people affect one another.

1. Who are the people or groups in this relationship?
2. What does each side want from the other?
3. What could change their trust, closeness, or power?

Communication & dialogue

What is said, who hears it, what is understood, and what changes.

1. Who is speaking to whom, and what needs to get across?
2. What should the listener understand, feel, or do afterward?

Values & moral choices

What matters, competing principles, and the cost of a choice.

1. What matters here, and to whom?
2. Which values pull the choice in different directions?
3. What is gained and given up on each path?

Scene / encounter

A playable situation, its decisions, and its consequences.

1. What is happening when players enter this scene?
2. What can players decide or do?
3. What changes because of that choice?

Story / act arc

Connected events, turning points, and change across an arc.

1. Whose situation changes across this story or act?
2. Where does it begin, and what should be different by the end?

Learning & discovery

Experience, discovery, reflection, and trying a new approach.

1. What could players discover or learn through this experience?
2. Where can they try what they have learned?

Voice & presentation

Tone, viewpoint, imagery, and how the story reaches players.

1. Who experiences this story, and through which voice or medium?
2. What tone or feeling should the presentation create?

01 / FATE

Shape an invitation, briefing, speech, or important reveal through attention, credibility, belonging, and feeling.

Best for: Communication & dialogue | Scene / encounter

Also useful for: Relationships & groups | Voice & presentation | Character | Story / act arc

Main path / Communication & dialogue

Use the communication & dialogue opening questions first.

1. Focus: What should the listener notice or remember first?

    Draw attention to the specific behavior, choice, or moment that matters.

2. Authority: What makes the message or speaker credible to this listener?

    Show why the action has weight, consequence, or legitimacy.

3. Tribe: What shared identity or belonging gives the message meaning?

    Connect the action to group identity, status, and shared belonging.

4. Emotion: What feeling should the message evoke, and through which detail?

    Attach feeling so the action is remembered and cared about.

How later questions build on earlier answers

Use the focus or message you recorded. Why would these people trust it?

Connect the message and its credibility to the people who need to feel involved.

Bring together the attention, credibility, and belonging you recorded. What detail could make that message felt?

Character

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Focus: What captures this character’s attention?
2. Authority: Why do others trust or listen to this character?
3. Tribe: Where do they belong, and whose approval matters?
4. Emotion: What feeling drives their next decision?

Relationships & groups

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Focus: What does each side pay attention to or overlook?
2. Authority: Whose voice is trusted, and why?
3. Tribe: What makes the sides feel included or excluded?
4. Emotion: What feeling strengthens or strains this relationship?

Values & moral choices

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Focus: Which value or stake needs attention?
2. Authority: Who or what makes a claim about what is right?
3. Tribe: How does belonging influence the choice?
4. Emotion: What feeling makes this choice matter?

Scene / encounter

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Focus: What draws players toward the important part of this encounter?
2. Authority: Why do players believe this event or request has weight?
3. Tribe: How are players personally or socially involved?
4. Emotion: What should they feel at the key moment, and what creates that feeling?

Story / act arc

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Focus: What central question holds attention across the story?
2. Authority: What makes the events and their consequences believable?
3. Tribe: How does the story connect people to a group or shared identity?
4. Emotion: Which moments carry the emotional change?

Learning & discovery

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Focus: What should learners pay attention to?
2. Authority: Why should they trust the demonstration or evidence?
3. Tribe: How does learning connect them with others?
4. Emotion: What feeling supports curiosity or reflection?

Voice & presentation

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Focus: What does the opening or presentation make most noticeable?
2. Authority: Which voice or details make the telling credible?
3. Tribe: Who does this voice invite into its audience?
4. Emotion: How do wording, imagery, or delivery create the intended feeling?

02 / Kolb's Learning Cycle

Build an experience that leads to reflection, an idea, and a chance to try it. It is a learning cycle rather than a personality description.

Best for: Learning & discovery

Also useful for: Scene / encounter | Character | Story / act arc

Main path / Learning & discovery

Use the learning & discovery opening questions first.

1. Concrete Experience: What direct experience starts learning or discovery for the learners?

   Players do, encounter, attempt, fail, succeed, or feel something directly.

2. Reflective Observation: How can the learners reflect on what happened and compare interpretations?

   Players look back at what happened and notice patterns, surprises, mistakes, and feelings.

3. Abstract Conceptualization: What idea or explanation could the learners form from that experience?

   Players form a principle, rule, theory, tactic, or lesson from the experience.

4. Active Experimentation: Where can the learners test that idea through a new action?

   Players test the new idea in the next situation and see whether it works.

How later questions build on earlier answers

Look back at the direct experience you recorded. What could players notice about it?

Build the idea from the reflection you recorded, rather than adding an unrelated lesson.

Test the idea you recorded in a new action. What result would support it, and what might make players rethink it?

Character

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Concrete Experience: What direct experience starts learning or discovery for this character?
2. Reflective Observation: How can this character reflect on what happened and compare interpretations?
3. Abstract Conceptualization: What idea or explanation could this character form from that experience?
4. Active Experimentation: Where can this character test that idea through a new action?

Relationships & groups

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Concrete Experience: What direct experience starts learning or discovery for the people or groups involved?
2. Reflective Observation: How can the people or groups involved reflect on what happened and compare interpretations?
3. Abstract Conceptualization: What idea or explanation could the people or groups involved form from that experience?
4. Active Experimentation: Where can the people or groups involved test that idea through a new action?

Communication & dialogue

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Concrete Experience: What direct experience starts learning or discovery for the speaker and listener?
2. Reflective Observation: How can the speaker and listener reflect on what happened and compare interpretations?
3. Abstract Conceptualization: What idea or explanation could the speaker and listener form from that experience?
4. Active Experimentation: Where can the speaker and listener test that idea through a new action?

Values & moral choices

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Concrete Experience: What direct experience starts learning or discovery for the people facing this choice?
2. Reflective Observation: How can the people facing this choice reflect on what happened and compare interpretations?
3. Abstract Conceptualization: What idea or explanation could the people facing this choice form from that experience?
4. Active Experimentation: Where can the people facing this choice test that idea through a new action?

Scene / encounter

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Concrete Experience: What direct experience starts learning or discovery for the participants in this encounter?
2. Reflective Observation: How can the participants in this encounter reflect on what happened and compare interpretations?
3. Abstract Conceptualization: What idea or explanation could the participants in this encounter form from that experience?
4. Active Experimentation: Where can the participants in this encounter test that idea through a new action?

Story / act arc

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Concrete Experience: What direct experience starts learning or discovery for the people whose situation changes?
2. Reflective Observation: How can the people whose situation changes reflect on what happened and compare interpretations?
3. Abstract Conceptualization: What idea or explanation could the people whose situation changes form from that experience?
4. Active Experimentation: Where can the people whose situation changes test that idea through a new action?

Voice & presentation

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Concrete Experience: What direct experience starts learning or discovery for the audience experiencing this presentation?
2. Reflective Observation: How can the audience experiencing this presentation reflect on what happened and compare interpretations?
3. Abstract Conceptualization: What idea or explanation could the audience experiencing this presentation form from that experience?
4. Active Experimentation: Where can the audience experiencing this presentation test that idea through a new action?

03 / Human Values

Find what someone stands to gain or lose, and make a choice emotionally meaningful.

Best for: Values & moral choices

Also useful for: Character | Relationships & groups | Scene / encounter | Story / act arc

Main path / Values & moral choices

Use the values & moral choices opening questions first.

1. Together / Alone: How does “Together / Alone” shape the dilemma? Who benefits or suffers, and what other value competes with it?

   Choices: Together | Alone | Both / in conflict

   Belonging, loyalty, exclusion, abandonment, and the need to not face the world alone.

2. Safety / Danger: How does “Safety / Danger” shape the dilemma? Who benefits or suffers, and what other value competes with it?

   Choices: Safety | Danger | Both / in conflict

   Protection, threat, risk, fear, shelter, alarms, and exposed choices.

3. Victory / Defeat: How does “Victory / Defeat” shape the dilemma? Who benefits or suffers, and what other value competes with it?

   Choices: Victory | Defeat | Both / in conflict

   Winning, failing, proving oneself, humiliation, comeback, and final outcome.

4. High status / Low status: How does “High status / Low status” shape the dilemma? Who benefits or suffers, and what other value competes with it?

   Choices: High status | Low status | Both / in conflict

   Respect, command, shame, rank, recognition, social power, and loss of face.

5. Free / Slavery: How does “Free / Slavery” shape the dilemma? Who benefits or suffers, and what other value competes with it?

   Choices: Free | Slavery | Both / in conflict

   Choice, escape, control, captivity, coercion, debt, and being owned by a system.

6. Wealthy / Poor: How does “Wealthy / Poor” shape the dilemma? Who benefits or suffers, and what other value competes with it?

   Choices: Wealthy | Poor | Both / in conflict

   Resources, scarcity, comfort, desperation, reward, greed, and survival pressure.

7. Life / Death: How does “Life / Death” shape the dilemma? Who benefits or suffers, and what other value competes with it?

   Choices: Life | Death | Both / in conflict

   Survival, sacrifice, grief, urgency, rescue, mortality, and irreversible stakes.

8. Skilled / Unskilled: How does “Skilled / Unskilled” shape the dilemma? Who benefits or suffers, and what other value competes with it?

   Choices: Skilled | Unskilled | Both / in conflict

   Mastery, competence, embarrassment, training, talent, and earning capability.

9. Healthy / Sick: How does “Healthy / Sick” shape the dilemma? Who benefits or suffers, and what other value competes with it?

   Choices: Healthy | Sick | Both / in conflict

   Strength, weakness, contamination, injury, recovery, endurance, and vulnerability.

10. Love / Ambivalence / Hatred: How does “Love / Ambivalence / Hatred” shape the dilemma? Who benefits or suffers, and what other value competes with it?

    Choices: Love | Ambivalence / Hatred | Both / in conflict

    Attachment, indifference, rejection, rivalry, affection, betrayal, and emotional allegiance.

11. Friend / Stranger / Enemy: How does “Friend / Stranger / Enemy” shape the dilemma? Who benefits or suffers, and what other value competes with it?

    Choices: Friend | Stranger / Enemy | Both / in conflict

    Trust, unfamiliarity, suspicion, hostility, alliance, recognition, and threat.

How later questions build on earlier answers

You have already explored Together / Alone. How does Safety / Danger support or clash with that value in this same situation?

You have already explored Safety / Danger. How does Victory / Defeat support or clash with that value in this same situation?

You have already explored Victory / Defeat. How does High status / Low status support or clash with that value in this same situation?

You have already explored High status / Low status. How does Free / Slavery support or clash with that value in this same situation?

You have already explored Free / Slavery. How does Wealthy / Poor support or clash with that value in this same situation?

You have already explored Wealthy / Poor. How does Life / Death support or clash with that value in this same situation?

You have already explored Life / Death. How does Skilled / Unskilled support or clash with that value in this same situation?

You have already explored Skilled / Unskilled. How does Healthy / Sick support or clash with that value in this same situation?

You have already explored Healthy / Sick. How does Love / Ambivalence / Hatred support or clash with that value in this same situation?

You have already explored Love / Ambivalence / Hatred. How does Friend / Stranger / Enemy support or clash with that value in this same situation?

Character

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Together / Alone: What does “Together / Alone” mean to this character, and what choice puts it at risk?
2. Safety / Danger: What does “Safety / Danger” mean to this character, and what choice puts it at risk?
3. Victory / Defeat: What does “Victory / Defeat” mean to this character, and what choice puts it at risk?
4. High status / Low status: What does “High status / Low status” mean to this character, and what choice puts it at risk?
5. Free / Slavery: What does “Free / Slavery” mean to this character, and what choice puts it at risk?
6. Wealthy / Poor: What does “Wealthy / Poor” mean to this character, and what choice puts it at risk?
7. Life / Death: What does “Life / Death” mean to this character, and what choice puts it at risk?
8. Skilled / Unskilled: What does “Skilled / Unskilled” mean to this character, and what choice puts it at risk?
9. Healthy / Sick: What does “Healthy / Sick” mean to this character, and what choice puts it at risk?
10. Love / Ambivalence / Hatred: What does “Love / Ambivalence / Hatred” mean to this character, and what choice puts it at risk?
11. Friend / Stranger / Enemy: What does “Friend / Stranger / Enemy” mean to this character, and what choice puts it at risk?

Relationships & groups

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Together / Alone: Where do the sides differ about “Together / Alone”, and how does that affect trust, obligation, or power?
2. Safety / Danger: Where do the sides differ about “Safety / Danger”, and how does that affect trust, obligation, or power?
3. Victory / Defeat: Where do the sides differ about “Victory / Defeat”, and how does that affect trust, obligation, or power?
4. High status / Low status: Where do the sides differ about “High status / Low status”, and how does that affect trust, obligation, or power?
5. Free / Slavery: Where do the sides differ about “Free / Slavery”, and how does that affect trust, obligation, or power?
6. Wealthy / Poor: Where do the sides differ about “Wealthy / Poor”, and how does that affect trust, obligation, or power?
7. Life / Death: Where do the sides differ about “Life / Death”, and how does that affect trust, obligation, or power?
8. Skilled / Unskilled: Where do the sides differ about “Skilled / Unskilled”, and how does that affect trust, obligation, or power?
9. Healthy / Sick: Where do the sides differ about “Healthy / Sick”, and how does that affect trust, obligation, or power?
10. Love / Ambivalence / Hatred: Where do the sides differ about “Love / Ambivalence / Hatred”, and how does that affect trust, obligation, or power?
11. Friend / Stranger / Enemy: Where do the sides differ about “Friend / Stranger / Enemy”, and how does that affect trust, obligation, or power?

Communication & dialogue

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Together / Alone: How does “Together / Alone” change what a speaker says and what a listener hears?
2. Safety / Danger: How does “Safety / Danger” change what a speaker says and what a listener hears?
3. Victory / Defeat: How does “Victory / Defeat” change what a speaker says and what a listener hears?
4. High status / Low status: How does “High status / Low status” change what a speaker says and what a listener hears?
5. Free / Slavery: How does “Free / Slavery” change what a speaker says and what a listener hears?
6. Wealthy / Poor: How does “Wealthy / Poor” change what a speaker says and what a listener hears?
7. Life / Death: How does “Life / Death” change what a speaker says and what a listener hears?
8. Skilled / Unskilled: How does “Skilled / Unskilled” change what a speaker says and what a listener hears?
9. Healthy / Sick: How does “Healthy / Sick” change what a speaker says and what a listener hears?
10. Love / Ambivalence / Hatred: How does “Love / Ambivalence / Hatred” change what a speaker says and what a listener hears?
11. Friend / Stranger / Enemy: How does “Friend / Stranger / Enemy” change what a speaker says and what a listener hears?

Scene / encounter

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Together / Alone: What playable choice in this encounter puts “Together / Alone” at stake?
2. Safety / Danger: What playable choice in this encounter puts “Safety / Danger” at stake?
3. Victory / Defeat: What playable choice in this encounter puts “Victory / Defeat” at stake?
4. High status / Low status: What playable choice in this encounter puts “High status / Low status” at stake?
5. Free / Slavery: What playable choice in this encounter puts “Free / Slavery” at stake?
6. Wealthy / Poor: What playable choice in this encounter puts “Wealthy / Poor” at stake?
7. Life / Death: What playable choice in this encounter puts “Life / Death” at stake?
8. Skilled / Unskilled: What playable choice in this encounter puts “Skilled / Unskilled” at stake?
9. Healthy / Sick: What playable choice in this encounter puts “Healthy / Sick” at stake?
10. Love / Ambivalence / Hatred: What playable choice in this encounter puts “Love / Ambivalence / Hatred” at stake?
11. Friend / Stranger / Enemy: What playable choice in this encounter puts “Friend / Stranger / Enemy” at stake?

Story / act arc

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Together / Alone: How does “Together / Alone” change across the story, and which event turns it?
2. Safety / Danger: How does “Safety / Danger” change across the story, and which event turns it?
3. Victory / Defeat: How does “Victory / Defeat” change across the story, and which event turns it?
4. High status / Low status: How does “High status / Low status” change across the story, and which event turns it?
5. Free / Slavery: How does “Free / Slavery” change across the story, and which event turns it?
6. Wealthy / Poor: How does “Wealthy / Poor” change across the story, and which event turns it?
7. Life / Death: How does “Life / Death” change across the story, and which event turns it?
8. Skilled / Unskilled: How does “Skilled / Unskilled” change across the story, and which event turns it?
9. Healthy / Sick: How does “Healthy / Sick” change across the story, and which event turns it?
10. Love / Ambivalence / Hatred: How does “Love / Ambivalence / Hatred” change across the story, and which event turns it?
11. Friend / Stranger / Enemy: How does “Friend / Stranger / Enemy” change across the story, and which event turns it?

Learning & discovery

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Together / Alone: What experience could reveal different views about “Together / Alone” without prescribing the answer?
2. Safety / Danger: What experience could reveal different views about “Safety / Danger” without prescribing the answer?
3. Victory / Defeat: What experience could reveal different views about “Victory / Defeat” without prescribing the answer?
4. High status / Low status: What experience could reveal different views about “High status / Low status” without prescribing the answer?
5. Free / Slavery: What experience could reveal different views about “Free / Slavery” without prescribing the answer?
6. Wealthy / Poor: What experience could reveal different views about “Wealthy / Poor” without prescribing the answer?
7. Life / Death: What experience could reveal different views about “Life / Death” without prescribing the answer?
8. Skilled / Unskilled: What experience could reveal different views about “Skilled / Unskilled” without prescribing the answer?
9. Healthy / Sick: What experience could reveal different views about “Healthy / Sick” without prescribing the answer?
10. Love / Ambivalence / Hatred: What experience could reveal different views about “Love / Ambivalence / Hatred” without prescribing the answer?
11. Friend / Stranger / Enemy: What experience could reveal different views about “Friend / Stranger / Enemy” without prescribing the answer?

Voice & presentation

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Together / Alone: How could the voice, imagery, or viewpoint make “Together / Alone” felt by the audience?
2. Safety / Danger: How could the voice, imagery, or viewpoint make “Safety / Danger” felt by the audience?
3. Victory / Defeat: How could the voice, imagery, or viewpoint make “Victory / Defeat” felt by the audience?
4. High status / Low status: How could the voice, imagery, or viewpoint make “High status / Low status” felt by the audience?
5. Free / Slavery: How could the voice, imagery, or viewpoint make “Free / Slavery” felt by the audience?
6. Wealthy / Poor: How could the voice, imagery, or viewpoint make “Wealthy / Poor” felt by the audience?
7. Life / Death: How could the voice, imagery, or viewpoint make “Life / Death” felt by the audience?
8. Skilled / Unskilled: How could the voice, imagery, or viewpoint make “Skilled / Unskilled” felt by the audience?
9. Healthy / Sick: How could the voice, imagery, or viewpoint make “Healthy / Sick” felt by the audience?
10. Love / Ambivalence / Hatred: How could the voice, imagery, or viewpoint make “Love / Ambivalence / Hatred” felt by the audience?
11. Friend / Stranger / Enemy: How could the voice, imagery, or viewpoint make “Friend / Stranger / Enemy” felt by the audience?

04 / Haidt Moral Conflicts

Give opposing sides understandable principles and put those principles into conflict.

Best for: Values & moral choices | Relationships & groups

Also useful for: Scene / encounter | Story / act arc | Character | Communication & dialogue

Main path / Values & moral choices

Use the values & moral choices opening questions first.

1. Care / Harm: How does “Care / Harm” shape the dilemma? Who benefits or suffers, and what other value competes with it?

   Choices: Care | Harm | Both / in conflict

   Compassion, protection, injury, cruelty, rescue, and the duty to prevent suffering.

2. Fairness / Cheating: How does “Fairness / Cheating” shape the dilemma? Who benefits or suffers, and what other value competes with it?

   Choices: Fairness | Cheating | Both / in conflict

   Justice, reciprocity, earned reward, exploitation, rigged rules, and broken bargains.

3. Liberty / Oppression: How does “Liberty / Oppression” shape the dilemma? Who benefits or suffers, and what other value competes with it?

   Choices: Liberty | Oppression | Both / in conflict

   Freedom, coercion, control, resistance, domination, and the right to choose.

4. Authority / Subversion: How does “Authority / Subversion” shape the dilemma? Who benefits or suffers, and what other value competes with it?

   Choices: Authority | Subversion | Both / in conflict

   Order, rank, tradition, leadership, rebellion, disrespect, and undermined command.

5. Loyalty / Betrayal: How does “Loyalty / Betrayal” shape the dilemma? Who benefits or suffers, and what other value competes with it?

   Choices: Loyalty | Betrayal | Both / in conflict

   Alliance, belonging, duty to the group, treason, abandonment, and divided allegiance.

6. Purity / Filth: How does “Purity / Filth” shape the dilemma? Who benefits or suffers, and what other value competes with it?

   Choices: Purity | Filth | Both / in conflict

   Sanctity, contamination, taboo, corruption, disgust, cleansing, and protected boundaries.

How later questions build on earlier answers

You have already explored Care / Harm. How does Fairness / Cheating support or clash with that value in this same situation?

You have already explored Fairness / Cheating. How does Liberty / Oppression support or clash with that value in this same situation?

You have already explored Liberty / Oppression. How does Authority / Subversion support or clash with that value in this same situation?

You have already explored Authority / Subversion. How does Loyalty / Betrayal support or clash with that value in this same situation?

You have already explored Loyalty / Betrayal. How does Purity / Filth support or clash with that value in this same situation?

Character

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Care / Harm: What does “Care / Harm” mean to this character, and what choice puts it at risk?
2. Fairness / Cheating: What does “Fairness / Cheating” mean to this character, and what choice puts it at risk?
3. Liberty / Oppression: What does “Liberty / Oppression” mean to this character, and what choice puts it at risk?
4. Authority / Subversion: What does “Authority / Subversion” mean to this character, and what choice puts it at risk?
5. Loyalty / Betrayal: What does “Loyalty / Betrayal” mean to this character, and what choice puts it at risk?
6. Purity / Filth: What does “Purity / Filth” mean to this character, and what choice puts it at risk?

Relationships & groups

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Care / Harm: Where do the sides differ about “Care / Harm”, and how does that affect trust, obligation, or power?
2. Fairness / Cheating: Where do the sides differ about “Fairness / Cheating”, and how does that affect trust, obligation, or power?
3. Liberty / Oppression: Where do the sides differ about “Liberty / Oppression”, and how does that affect trust, obligation, or power?
4. Authority / Subversion: Where do the sides differ about “Authority / Subversion”, and how does that affect trust, obligation, or power?
5. Loyalty / Betrayal: Where do the sides differ about “Loyalty / Betrayal”, and how does that affect trust, obligation, or power?
6. Purity / Filth: Where do the sides differ about “Purity / Filth”, and how does that affect trust, obligation, or power?

Communication & dialogue

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Care / Harm: How does “Care / Harm” change what a speaker says and what a listener hears?
2. Fairness / Cheating: How does “Fairness / Cheating” change what a speaker says and what a listener hears?
3. Liberty / Oppression: How does “Liberty / Oppression” change what a speaker says and what a listener hears?
4. Authority / Subversion: How does “Authority / Subversion” change what a speaker says and what a listener hears?
5. Loyalty / Betrayal: How does “Loyalty / Betrayal” change what a speaker says and what a listener hears?
6. Purity / Filth: How does “Purity / Filth” change what a speaker says and what a listener hears?

Scene / encounter

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Care / Harm: What playable choice in this encounter puts “Care / Harm” at stake?
2. Fairness / Cheating: What playable choice in this encounter puts “Fairness / Cheating” at stake?
3. Liberty / Oppression: What playable choice in this encounter puts “Liberty / Oppression” at stake?
4. Authority / Subversion: What playable choice in this encounter puts “Authority / Subversion” at stake?
5. Loyalty / Betrayal: What playable choice in this encounter puts “Loyalty / Betrayal” at stake?
6. Purity / Filth: What playable choice in this encounter puts “Purity / Filth” at stake?

Story / act arc

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Care / Harm: How does “Care / Harm” change across the story, and which event turns it?
2. Fairness / Cheating: How does “Fairness / Cheating” change across the story, and which event turns it?
3. Liberty / Oppression: How does “Liberty / Oppression” change across the story, and which event turns it?
4. Authority / Subversion: How does “Authority / Subversion” change across the story, and which event turns it?
5. Loyalty / Betrayal: How does “Loyalty / Betrayal” change across the story, and which event turns it?
6. Purity / Filth: How does “Purity / Filth” change across the story, and which event turns it?

Learning & discovery

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Care / Harm: What experience could reveal different views about “Care / Harm” without prescribing the answer?
2. Fairness / Cheating: What experience could reveal different views about “Fairness / Cheating” without prescribing the answer?
3. Liberty / Oppression: What experience could reveal different views about “Liberty / Oppression” without prescribing the answer?
4. Authority / Subversion: What experience could reveal different views about “Authority / Subversion” without prescribing the answer?
5. Loyalty / Betrayal: What experience could reveal different views about “Loyalty / Betrayal” without prescribing the answer?
6. Purity / Filth: What experience could reveal different views about “Purity / Filth” without prescribing the answer?

Voice & presentation

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Care / Harm: How could the voice, imagery, or viewpoint make “Care / Harm” felt by the audience?
2. Fairness / Cheating: How could the voice, imagery, or viewpoint make “Fairness / Cheating” felt by the audience?
3. Liberty / Oppression: How could the voice, imagery, or viewpoint make “Liberty / Oppression” felt by the audience?
4. Authority / Subversion: How could the voice, imagery, or viewpoint make “Authority / Subversion” felt by the audience?
5. Loyalty / Betrayal: How could the voice, imagery, or viewpoint make “Loyalty / Betrayal” felt by the audience?
6. Purity / Filth: How could the voice, imagery, or viewpoint make “Purity / Filth” felt by the audience?

05 / Descent and Recovery Arc

Shape a setback, crisis, recovery, and changed situation across several beats.

Best for: Story / act arc

Also useful for: Character | Relationships & groups | Scene / encounter | Learning & discovery

Main path / Story / act arc

Use the story / act arc opening questions first.

This framework question set also applies unchanged to: Communication & dialogue | Values & moral choices | Scene / encounter | Learning & discovery | Voice & presentation. Use the openings for your chosen purpose.

1. Comfort Zone: What is stable at the beginning, and what potential is unused?

   Life is not bad, but something is missing and some potential remains unused.

2. Trigger: What event disrupts that situation?

   A setback knocks the character down through misfortune, inattention, or an avoidable mistake.

3. Crisis: What is the crisis, and what becomes clear within it?

   At the lowest point, the character discovers or learns something valuable in the dark.

4. Recovery: What choices move the story toward recovery?

   The character applies what was learned and begins climbing back toward stability.

5. Better Place: What is different in the new situation at the end?

   The character reaches a wiser and more resilient new normal.

How later questions build on earlier answers

Build this step from Comfort Zone, which you have already described. What carries forward, and what changes at Trigger?

Build this step from Trigger, which you have already described. What carries forward, and what changes at Crisis?

Build this step from Crisis, which you have already described. What carries forward, and what changes at Recovery?

Build this step from Recovery, which you have already described. What carries forward, and what changes at Better Place?

Character

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Comfort Zone: What is their normal life, and what is missing?
2. Trigger: What knocks their life off course?
3. Crisis: At their lowest point, what do they discover?
4. Recovery: What do they do with what they learned?
5. Better Place: How are they different after recovering?

Relationships & groups

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Comfort Zone: What is stable or missing in the relationship at the start?
2. Trigger: What damages trust or cooperation?
3. Crisis: At the lowest point, what do the sides realise?
4. Recovery: What action starts to repair or change the relationship?
5. Better Place: What new relationship becomes possible afterward?

06 / Home, Voyage, Return

Structure a journey into unfamiliar conditions, its cost, and what returns changed.

Best for: Story / act arc

Also useful for: Character | Learning & discovery | Relationships & groups | Scene / encounter

Main path / Story / act arc

Use the story / act arc opening questions first.

This framework question set also applies unchanged to: Communication & dialogue | Values & moral choices | Scene / encounter | Learning & discovery | Voice & presentation. Use the openings for your chosen purpose.

1. Comfort Zone: What is home or the familiar starting situation?

   Home is safe and familiar, but it is dull, incomplete, or wasting potential.

2. Need or Desire: What need starts the journey?

   The hero recognizes a want, lack, problem, or possibility that makes remaining at Home insufficient.

3. Unfamiliar Situation: What unfamiliar world or problem is entered?

   The hero enters a strange new world through a deliberate choice, force, or accident.

4. Adaptation: How do the participants adapt?

   The hero learns the rules, skills, relationships, and perspective needed to function in the new world.

5. Get What They Want: What desired thing do they obtain?

   The hero reaches the apparent goal or obtains the thing that originally motivated the voyage.

6. Pay a Price: What price or difficult consequence comes with it?

   The desired gain carries a sacrifice, consequence, reversal, or difficult recognition.

7. Return to Comfort: How does the journey return to the starting world?

   The hero returns to the old world, bringing the voyage and its consequences back into familiar life.

8. Having Changed: What has changed, and how does it affect that world?

   The hero completes the circle wiser, altered, and capable of making Home better.

How later questions build on earlier answers

Build this step from Comfort Zone, which you have already described. What carries forward, and what changes at Need or Desire?

Build this step from Need or Desire, which you have already described. What carries forward, and what changes at Unfamiliar Situation?

Build this step from Unfamiliar Situation, which you have already described. What carries forward, and what changes at Adaptation?

Build this step from Adaptation, which you have already described. What carries forward, and what changes at Get What They Want?

Build this step from Get What They Want, which you have already described. What carries forward, and what changes at Pay a Price?

Build this step from Pay a Price, which you have already described. What carries forward, and what changes at Return to Comfort?

Build this step from Return to Comfort, which you have already described. What carries forward, and what changes at Having Changed?

Character

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Comfort Zone: What makes home familiar, and what is missing?
2. Need or Desire: What do they want enough to leave home?
3. Unfamiliar Situation: What unfamiliar situation do they enter?
4. Adaptation: What must they learn or change to cope?
5. Get What They Want: What do they finally obtain?
6. Pay a Price: What does getting it cost them?
7. Return to Comfort: What happens when they return?
8. Having Changed: What has changed in them, and how does it affect home?

Relationships & groups

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Comfort Zone: What familiar relationship do the sides begin with?
2. Need or Desire: What need draws them beyond their usual roles?
3. Unfamiliar Situation: What unfamiliar situation tests their relationship?
4. Adaptation: How do they learn to work with each other?
5. Get What They Want: What do they achieve together or separately?
6. Pay a Price: What does that achievement cost their relationship?
7. Return to Comfort: What happens when they return to familiar circumstances?
8. Having Changed: How have trust, roles, or closeness changed?

07 / Story Building System

Check the purpose, material, people, structure, delivery, and practical use of a story before polishing it.

Best for: Story / act arc

Also useful for: Communication & dialogue | Scene / encounter | Voice & presentation | Character | Learning & discovery

Main path / Story / act arc

Use the story / act arc opening questions first.

1. Concept: Why is this story / act outline needed, and what is its central idea?

   Define the central idea and the change in perspective the story should create.

2. Explore: Which experiences, details, or unanswered questions could supply its material?

   Map the unfamiliar situation, uncertainty, and discoveries that give the story movement.

3. Character: Whose perspective carries it, and what does each person contribute?

   Choose whose experience carries the story and why the audience should trust or care about them.

4. Function: What should players or listeners understand, feel, or do because of it?

   State the practical effect the story should have on understanding, feeling, or action.

5. Structure: What sequence of events or ideas makes it easy to follow?

   Select a pattern that gives events a clear sequence, rhythm, and direction.

6. Style: Which voice, tone, imagery, and emphasis suit it?

   Choose the voice, imagery, tone, and emphasis that will make the story memorable.

7. Organise: Where, when, and through which people or medium will it reach its audience?

   Plan where, when, and how the story will reach people and support its intended use.

8. Recipe: Which choices from these answers form a useful working approach?

   Combine the most useful decisions from the earlier stages into one reusable approach.

How later questions build on earlier answers

Build this step from Concept, which you have already described. What carries forward, and what changes at Explore?

Build this step from Explore, which you have already described. What carries forward, and what changes at Character?

Build this step from Character, which you have already described. What carries forward, and what changes at Function?

Build this step from Function, which you have already described. What carries forward, and what changes at Structure?

Build this step from Structure, which you have already described. What carries forward, and what changes at Style?

Build this step from Style, which you have already described. What carries forward, and what changes at Organise?

Build this step from Organise, which you have already described. What carries forward, and what changes at Recipe?

Character

Only the questions below change. Keep all other questions, reference hints, and choices from the main path. Begin with the openings for your chosen purpose.

1. Concept: Why is this character needed, and what is its central idea?

Relationships & groups

Only the questions below change. Keep all other questions, reference hints, and choices from the main path. Begin with the openings for your chosen purpose.

1. Concept: Why is this relationship / group dynamic needed, and what is its central idea?

Communication & dialogue

Only the questions below change. Keep all other questions, reference hints, and choices from the main path. Begin with the openings for your chosen purpose.

1. Concept: Why is this communication / dialogue plan needed, and what is its central idea?

Values & moral choices

Only the questions below change. Keep all other questions, reference hints, and choices from the main path. Begin with the openings for your chosen purpose.

1. Concept: Why is this values / dilemma needed, and what is its central idea?

Scene / encounter

Only the questions below change. Keep all other questions, reference hints, and choices from the main path. Begin with the openings for your chosen purpose.

1. Concept: Why is this scene / encounter plan needed, and what is its central idea?

Learning & discovery

Only the questions below change. Keep all other questions, reference hints, and choices from the main path. Begin with the openings for your chosen purpose.

1. Concept: Why is this learning / discovery sequence needed, and what is its central idea?

Voice & presentation

Only the questions below change. Keep all other questions, reference hints, and choices from the main path. Begin with the openings for your chosen purpose.

1. Concept: Why is this voice / presentation guide needed, and what is its central idea?

08 / NLP Meta Programs - Preference Spectra

Explore contrasting preferences in motivation, decisions, information, and methods, then show their effect in a situation.

Best for: Character | Communication & dialogue

Also useful for: Relationships & groups | Scene / encounter | Learning & discovery

Main path / Character

Use the character opening questions first.

1. Motivation direction: What attracts the character, and what are they trying to prevent?

    Choices: Toward | Away From | Both / depends on the situation

    Toward ↔ Away From

2. Evaluation reference: How does the character decide that the work is good enough?

    Choices: Internal | External | Both / depends on the situation

    Internal ↔ External

3. Action initiation: Do they initiate now, or wait for information or a trigger?

    Choices: Proactive | Reactive | Both / depends on the situation

    Proactive ↔ Reactive

4. Information scope: What level of information helps the character understand the plan?

    Choices: Global | Detail | Both / depends on the situation

    Global ↔ Detail

5. Relationship sorting: What seems familiar here, and what breaks the pattern?

    Choices: Sameness | Difference | Both / depends on the situation

    Sameness ↔ Difference

6. Method preference: Does the character want alternatives or a clear method to follow?

    Choices: Options | Procedures | Both / depends on the situation

    Options ↔ Procedures

How later questions build on earlier answers

Keep the preferences you already recorded in mind. Explain where this preference supports them, differs, or changes with the situation.

Relationships & groups

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Motivation direction: How do the sides differ on “Toward / Away From”? When does that difference help, and when does it cause friction?
2. Evaluation reference: How do the sides differ on “Internal / External”? When does that difference help, and when does it cause friction?
3. Action initiation: How do the sides differ on “Proactive / Reactive”? When does that difference help, and when does it cause friction?
4. Information scope: How do the sides differ on “Global / Detail”? When does that difference help, and when does it cause friction?
5. Relationship sorting: How do the sides differ on “Sameness / Difference”? When does that difference help, and when does it cause friction?
6. Method preference: How do the sides differ on “Options / Procedures”? When does that difference help, and when does it cause friction?

Communication & dialogue

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Motivation direction: For “Toward / Away From”, what approach does the listener need, and how could the speaker adapt the message? Give an example line.
2. Evaluation reference: For “Internal / External”, what approach does the listener need, and how could the speaker adapt the message? Give an example line.
3. Action initiation: For “Proactive / Reactive”, what approach does the listener need, and how could the speaker adapt the message? Give an example line.
4. Information scope: For “Global / Detail”, what approach does the listener need, and how could the speaker adapt the message? Give an example line.
5. Relationship sorting: For “Sameness / Difference”, what approach does the listener need, and how could the speaker adapt the message? Give an example line.
6. Method preference: For “Options / Procedures”, what approach does the listener need, and how could the speaker adapt the message? Give an example line.

Values & moral choices / Scene / encounter / Story / act arc / Voice & presentation

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Motivation direction: How might different preferences for “Toward / Away From” change the choices, instructions, or reactions in this situation?
2. Evaluation reference: How might different preferences for “Internal / External” change the choices, instructions, or reactions in this situation?
3. Action initiation: How might different preferences for “Proactive / Reactive” change the choices, instructions, or reactions in this situation?
4. Information scope: How might different preferences for “Global / Detail” change the choices, instructions, or reactions in this situation?
5. Relationship sorting: How might different preferences for “Sameness / Difference” change the choices, instructions, or reactions in this situation?
6. Method preference: How might different preferences for “Options / Procedures” change the choices, instructions, or reactions in this situation?

Learning & discovery

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Motivation direction: How can learners approach the experience from either end of “Toward / Away From”, and compare what they notice?
2. Evaluation reference: How can learners approach the experience from either end of “Internal / External”, and compare what they notice?
3. Action initiation: How can learners approach the experience from either end of “Proactive / Reactive”, and compare what they notice?
4. Information scope: How can learners approach the experience from either end of “Global / Detail”, and compare what they notice?
5. Relationship sorting: How can learners approach the experience from either end of “Sameness / Difference”, and compare what they notice?
6. Method preference: How can learners approach the experience from either end of “Options / Procedures”, and compare what they notice?

09 / NLP Meta Model - Language Spectrum

Write or unpack a statement: what is missing, assumed, or treated as an absolute, and what a question might reveal.

Best for: Communication & dialogue

Also useful for: Relationships & groups | Scene / encounter | Character | Voice & presentation

Main path / Communication & dialogue

Use the communication & dialogue opening questions first.

This framework question set also applies unchanged to: Values & moral choices | Scene / encounter | Story / act arc | Learning & discovery. Use the openings for your chosen purpose.

1. Simple deletion: Write a line using simple deletion, the question that uncovers what it means, and a possible more specific reply.

   Reference example: “The mission failed.” → “Which part failed?” → “The courier missed the northern rendezvous.”

2. Unspecified referent: Write a line using unspecified referent, the question that uncovers what it means, and a possible more specific reply.

   Reference example: “They rejected the plan.” → “Who specifically rejected it?” → “The quartermaster rejected the plan.”

3. Unspecified verb: Write a line using unspecified verb, the question that uncovers what it means, and a possible more specific reply.

   Reference example: “The captain undermined me.” → “What did the captain do?” → “The captain reassigned my scouts without consulting me.”

4. Comparative deletion: Write a line using comparative deletion, the question that uncovers what it means, and a possible more specific reply.

   Reference example: “This route is safer.” → “Safer than which route, and in what way?” → “The ridge has fewer patrols than the river crossing.”

5. Nominalization: Write a line using nominalization, the question that uncovers what it means, and a possible more specific reply.

   Reference example: “Our cooperation is broken.” → “Who needs to cooperate, and how?” → “The scouts and guards need to share their nightly reports.”

6. Mind reading: Write a line using mind reading, the question that uncovers what it means, and a possible more specific reply.

   Reference example: “The envoy despises me.” → “What have you observed that suggests that?” → “The envoy declined two invitations; I do not know why.”

7. Cause and effect: Write a line using cause and effect, the question that uncovers what it means, and a possible more specific reply.

   Reference example: “Your questions make me lose command.” → “How do the questions affect your command?” → “I lose my place when questions interrupt my briefing.”

8. Complex equivalence: Write a line using complex equivalence, the question that uncovers what it means, and a possible more specific reply.

   Reference example: “She left the meeting, so she betrayed us.” → “How does leaving establish betrayal?” → “She left before the vote; her reason is still unknown.”

9. Presupposition: Write a line using presupposition, the question that uncovers what it means, and a possible more specific reply.

   Reference example: “When will you admit the theft?” → “Has the theft been established?” → “An item is missing; we need to establish what happened.”

10. Lost performative: Write a line using lost performative, the question that uncovers what it means, and a possible more specific reply.

    Reference example: “It is dishonorable to negotiate.” → “Whose standard defines that as dishonorable?” → “Our commander considers negotiating with this faction dishonorable.”

11. Universal quantifier: Write a line using universal quantifier, the question that uncovers what it means, and a possible more specific reply.

    Reference example: “No ally ever keeps a promise.” → “Has any ally kept a promise, even once?” → “Two allies broke recent promises; the healer kept hers.”

12. Modal operator: Write a line using modal operator, the question that uncovers what it means, and a possible more specific reply.

    Reference example: “I must obey; I cannot refuse.” → “What requires obedience, and what would happen if you refused?” → “Refusal risks my rank; I could still request a different assignment.”

How later questions build on earlier answers

Try this language pattern in the conversation you already described. It can clarify the same exchange or reveal another misunderstanding within it.

Character

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Simple deletion: How might this character use simple deletion in dialogue? Write their line, a clarifying question, and what the reply reveals.
2. Unspecified referent: How might this character use unspecified referent in dialogue? Write their line, a clarifying question, and what the reply reveals.
3. Unspecified verb: How might this character use unspecified verb in dialogue? Write their line, a clarifying question, and what the reply reveals.
4. Comparative deletion: How might this character use comparative deletion in dialogue? Write their line, a clarifying question, and what the reply reveals.
5. Nominalization: How might this character use nominalization in dialogue? Write their line, a clarifying question, and what the reply reveals.
6. Mind reading: How might this character use mind reading in dialogue? Write their line, a clarifying question, and what the reply reveals.
7. Cause and effect: How might this character use cause and effect in dialogue? Write their line, a clarifying question, and what the reply reveals.
8. Complex equivalence: How might this character use complex equivalence in dialogue? Write their line, a clarifying question, and what the reply reveals.
9. Presupposition: How might this character use presupposition in dialogue? Write their line, a clarifying question, and what the reply reveals.
10. Lost performative: How might this character use lost performative in dialogue? Write their line, a clarifying question, and what the reply reveals.
11. Universal quantifier: How might this character use universal quantifier in dialogue? Write their line, a clarifying question, and what the reply reveals.
12. Modal operator: How might this character use modal operator in dialogue? Write their line, a clarifying question, and what the reply reveals.

Relationships & groups

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Simple deletion: Write something one side assumes about the other using simple deletion. What clarifying question and answer could change their understanding?
2. Unspecified referent: Write something one side assumes about the other using unspecified referent. What clarifying question and answer could change their understanding?
3. Unspecified verb: Write something one side assumes about the other using unspecified verb. What clarifying question and answer could change their understanding?
4. Comparative deletion: Write something one side assumes about the other using comparative deletion. What clarifying question and answer could change their understanding?
5. Nominalization: Write something one side assumes about the other using nominalization. What clarifying question and answer could change their understanding?
6. Mind reading: Write something one side assumes about the other using mind reading. What clarifying question and answer could change their understanding?
7. Cause and effect: Write something one side assumes about the other using cause and effect. What clarifying question and answer could change their understanding?
8. Complex equivalence: Write something one side assumes about the other using complex equivalence. What clarifying question and answer could change their understanding?
9. Presupposition: Write something one side assumes about the other using presupposition. What clarifying question and answer could change their understanding?
10. Lost performative: Write something one side assumes about the other using lost performative. What clarifying question and answer could change their understanding?
11. Universal quantifier: Write something one side assumes about the other using universal quantifier. What clarifying question and answer could change their understanding?
12. Modal operator: Write something one side assumes about the other using modal operator. What clarifying question and answer could change their understanding?

Voice & presentation

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Simple deletion: How could simple deletion shape a narrator’s wording? Write the compressed version, a question about it, and a clearer version.
2. Unspecified referent: How could unspecified referent shape a narrator’s wording? Write the compressed version, a question about it, and a clearer version.
3. Unspecified verb: How could unspecified verb shape a narrator’s wording? Write the compressed version, a question about it, and a clearer version.
4. Comparative deletion: How could comparative deletion shape a narrator’s wording? Write the compressed version, a question about it, and a clearer version.
5. Nominalization: How could nominalization shape a narrator’s wording? Write the compressed version, a question about it, and a clearer version.
6. Mind reading: How could mind reading shape a narrator’s wording? Write the compressed version, a question about it, and a clearer version.
7. Cause and effect: How could cause and effect shape a narrator’s wording? Write the compressed version, a question about it, and a clearer version.
8. Complex equivalence: How could complex equivalence shape a narrator’s wording? Write the compressed version, a question about it, and a clearer version.
9. Presupposition: How could presupposition shape a narrator’s wording? Write the compressed version, a question about it, and a clearer version.
10. Lost performative: How could lost performative shape a narrator’s wording? Write the compressed version, a question about it, and a clearer version.
11. Universal quantifier: How could universal quantifier shape a narrator’s wording? Write the compressed version, a question about it, and a clearer version.
12. Modal operator: How could modal operator shape a narrator’s wording? Write the compressed version, a question about it, and a clearer version.

10 / MMPI-2 - Character Profile

Describe several dimensions of one fictional character and how those traits affect behaviour. It is not an assessment of players.

Best for: Character

Also useful for: Relationships & groups | Scene / encounter

Main path / Character

Use the character opening questions first.

1. Response Reliability & Self-Presentation: How consistent is the account, and how is the character presenting themselves? Show this through a scene or behaviour.

   How consistent is the account, and how is the character presenting themselves? Consistency · Exaggeration · Minimization / positive presentation

2. Emotional Distress & Negative Emotionality: How strongly does the character experience negative emotion? Show this through a scene or behaviour.

   How strongly does the character experience negative emotion? Negative emotionality · Depression / low positive emotion · Anxiety / worry · Fear

3. Somatic & Health Focus: How prominent are bodily symptoms and health concerns? Show this through a scene or behaviour.

   How prominent are bodily symptoms and health concerns? Physical complaints · Health concern

4. Thought & Perceptual Functioning: How does the character experience and interpret reality? Show this through a scene or behaviour.

   How does the character experience and interpret reality? Conventional ↔ unusual thinking · Unusual experiences · Reality interpretation

5. Trust, Suspicion & Cynicism: How does the character interpret other people’s motives? Show this through a scene or behaviour.

   How does the character interpret other people’s motives? Trust · Cynicism · Persecutory interpretation

6. Behavioral Control & Disconstraint: How does the character manage impulses, rules, and consequences? Show this through a scene or behaviour.

   How does the character manage impulses, rules, and consequences? Self-control · Impulsivity · Rule conformity

7. Aggression, Anger & Activation: Consider conflict intensity and energy separately. Show this through a scene or behaviour.

   Consider conflict intensity and energy separately. Anger · Aggressiveness · Activation / energy

8. Social & Interpersonal Style: How does the character relate to others across situations? Show this through a scene or behaviour.

   How does the character relate to others across situations? Introversion · Social confidence · Dominance / passivity · Relationship functioning

9. Adjustment, Coping & Psychological Resources: What helps the character cope, function, and seek support? Show this through a scene or behaviour.

   What helps the character cope, function, and seek support? Self-esteem · Resilience · Functional capacity · Openness to help

How later questions build on earlier answers

You have described Response Reliability & Self-Presentation. Show how this next aspect appears in the same fictional person, including any differences between situations.

You have described Emotional Distress & Negative Emotionality. Show how this next aspect appears in the same fictional person, including any differences between situations.

You have described Somatic & Health Focus. Show how this next aspect appears in the same fictional person, including any differences between situations.

You have described Thought & Perceptual Functioning. Show how this next aspect appears in the same fictional person, including any differences between situations.

You have described Trust, Suspicion & Cynicism. Show how this next aspect appears in the same fictional person, including any differences between situations.

You have described Behavioral Control & Disconstraint. Show how this next aspect appears in the same fictional person, including any differences between situations.

You have described Aggression, Anger & Activation. Show how this next aspect appears in the same fictional person, including any differences between situations.

You have described Social & Interpersonal Style. Show how this next aspect appears in the same fictional person, including any differences between situations.

Relationships & groups

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Response Reliability & Self-Presentation: How might “Response Reliability & Self-Presentation” in one fictional person affect this relationship? Describe the other side’s response as well.
2. Emotional Distress & Negative Emotionality: How might “Emotional Distress & Negative Emotionality” in one fictional person affect this relationship? Describe the other side’s response as well.
3. Somatic & Health Focus: How might “Somatic & Health Focus” in one fictional person affect this relationship? Describe the other side’s response as well.
4. Thought & Perceptual Functioning: How might “Thought & Perceptual Functioning” in one fictional person affect this relationship? Describe the other side’s response as well.
5. Trust, Suspicion & Cynicism: How might “Trust, Suspicion & Cynicism” in one fictional person affect this relationship? Describe the other side’s response as well.
6. Behavioral Control & Disconstraint: How might “Behavioral Control & Disconstraint” in one fictional person affect this relationship? Describe the other side’s response as well.
7. Aggression, Anger & Activation: How might “Aggression, Anger & Activation” in one fictional person affect this relationship? Describe the other side’s response as well.
8. Social & Interpersonal Style: How might “Social & Interpersonal Style” in one fictional person affect this relationship? Describe the other side’s response as well.
9. Adjustment, Coping & Psychological Resources: How might “Adjustment, Coping & Psychological Resources” in one fictional person affect this relationship? Describe the other side’s response as well.

Communication & dialogue / Values & moral choices / Scene / encounter / Story / act arc / Learning & discovery / Voice & presentation

Use the opening questions for your chosen purpose, followed by this question set. Reference hints and choices are the same as in the main path.

1. Response Reliability & Self-Presentation: How might “Response Reliability & Self-Presentation” in one fictional participant affect this situation? Show behaviour and consequences rather than labelling the whole group.
2. Emotional Distress & Negative Emotionality: How might “Emotional Distress & Negative Emotionality” in one fictional participant affect this situation? Show behaviour and consequences rather than labelling the whole group.
3. Somatic & Health Focus: How might “Somatic & Health Focus” in one fictional participant affect this situation? Show behaviour and consequences rather than labelling the whole group.
4. Thought & Perceptual Functioning: How might “Thought & Perceptual Functioning” in one fictional participant affect this situation? Show behaviour and consequences rather than labelling the whole group.
5. Trust, Suspicion & Cynicism: How might “Trust, Suspicion & Cynicism” in one fictional participant affect this situation? Show behaviour and consequences rather than labelling the whole group.
6. Behavioral Control & Disconstraint: How might “Behavioral Control & Disconstraint” in one fictional participant affect this situation? Show behaviour and consequences rather than labelling the whole group.
7. Aggression, Anger & Activation: How might “Aggression, Anger & Activation” in one fictional participant affect this situation? Show behaviour and consequences rather than labelling the whole group.
8. Social & Interpersonal Style: How might “Social & Interpersonal Style” in one fictional participant affect this situation? Show behaviour and consequences rather than labelling the whole group.
9. Adjustment, Coping & Psychological Resources: How might “Adjustment, Coping & Psychological Resources” in one fictional participant affect this situation? Show behaviour and consequences rather than labelling the whole group.

11 / Jungian Feminine Archetypes

Explore care, connection, independence, and meaning, including how those roles support or limit relationships.

Best for: Character | Relationships & groups

Also useful for: Scene / encounter | Values & moral choices | Story / act arc

Start with the Character opening questions. Select an archetype below and use its development questions. To develop a relationship or another story purpose, use that purpose's openings and the exact replacements later in this chapter.

Choice question: Which archetype would you like to explore?

Choices: Mother | Companion | Amazon | Medial Woman

Mother

Selected archetype: Mother

2. How does this character, as the Mother, care for others while helping them become independent?

   Creates conditions for others to grow. In a story, the crucial choice is when to shelter someone and when to trust their ability to leave.

3. What could push this Mother toward the Controlling Caregiver? Who would feel the effects?

   Controlling Caregiver · Makes help conditional on obedience and treats independence as rejection. A mentor may sabotage a pupil’s departure while insisting it is for their protection.

4. When this Mother gives up or withdraws, how does the Self-erasing Caregiver appear? What responsibility or connection is lost?

   Self-erasing Caregiver · Gives beyond personal limits until needs and identity disappear. A caretaker might accept every demand, then become exhausted or silently resentful.

5. What scene could test this Mother between its healthy side, the Controlling Caregiver, and the Self-erasing Caregiver? What choice could change the pattern?

   Describe an observable choice. This reference uses adult roles and Larpcraft shadow adaptations; it has no child-form system.

Companion

Selected archetype: Companion

2. How does this character, as the Companion, build closeness while leaving room for two distinct people?

   Builds meaningful connection through attention and honest exchange. A story tests whether intimacy can support two distinct people rather than require them to become one.

3. What could push this Companion toward the Possessive Companion? Who would feel the effects?

   Possessive Companion · Uses closeness, jealousy, or privileged confidences to monopolize another person. A trusted ally may undermine every competing friendship.

4. When this Companion gives up or withdraws, how does the Dependent Companion appear? What responsibility or connection is lost?

   Dependent Companion · Lets belonging replace personal judgment and direction. A character agrees to betray a value rather than risk losing a treasured bond.

5. What scene could test this Companion between its healthy side, the Possessive Companion, and the Dependent Companion? What choice could change the pattern?

   Describe an observable choice. This reference uses adult roles and Larpcraft shadow adaptations; it has no child-form system.

Amazon

Selected archetype: Amazon

2. How does this character, as the Amazon, pursue a purpose independently while accepting useful help?

   Chooses a direction and develops the skills to follow it. A story tests the balance between self-reliance and accepting help or shared responsibility.

3. What could push this Amazon toward the Ruthless Competitor? Who would feel the effects?

   Ruthless Competitor · Makes achievement the measure of human worth and treats cooperation as weakness. A commander might sacrifice allies to preserve a record of winning.

4. When this Amazon gives up or withdraws, how does the Isolated Defender appear? What responsibility or connection is lost?

   Isolated Defender · Protects autonomy by refusing involvement, vulnerability, or assistance. A capable loner may abandon a worthy shared task rather than risk needing anyone.

5. What scene could test this Amazon between its healthy side, the Ruthless Competitor, and the Isolated Defender? What choice could change the pattern?

   Describe an observable choice. This reference uses adult roles and Larpcraft shadow adaptations; it has no child-form system.

Medial Woman

Selected archetype: Medial Woman

2. How does this character, as the Medial Woman, give meaning to intuitions and turn them into responsible action?

   Gives form to intuitions through reflection, art, or symbolic language. A story tests whether an evocative insight can be grounded in responsible action.

3. What could push this Medial Woman toward the Inflated Oracle? Who would feel the effects?

   Inflated Oracle · Treats an interpretation as unquestionable truth and claims special authority. An oracle might demand obedience instead of allowing others to question a vision.

4. When this Medial Woman gives up or withdraws, how does the Overwhelmed Vessel appear? What responsibility or connection is lost?

   Overwhelmed Vessel · Absorbs impressions without enough distance to choose a response. A sensitive character becomes carried by the group’s fears and needs time to distinguish them from personal judgment.

5. What scene could test this Medial Woman between its healthy side, the Inflated Oracle, and the Overwhelmed Vessel? What choice could change the pattern?

   Describe an observable choice. This reference uses adult roles and Larpcraft shadow adaptations; it has no child-form system.

Relationship questions

1. Which archetype shapes one side of this relationship?

   Choices: Mother | Companion | Amazon | Medial Woman

   A writing lens. Any person can express several roles.

2. What role does the other side take, and what do they need from this side?

   Choices: Mother | Companion | Amazon | Medial Woman

   You can choose another archetype or describe a different role.

Then use the development questions for the first archetype. Replace its Strength question (question 2 in its Character path) with the matching comparison below. The developing-form and shadow questions keep the same wording. A second selected archetype also shows its healthy-role description in the application.

FIRST ROLE + OTHER SIDE	REPLACEMENT STRENGTH QUESTION
Mother + an unspecified other side	How does the Mother support or clash with the other side? What does each side need?
Mother + Mother	How does the Mother support or clash with the Mother? What does each side need?
Mother + Companion	How does the Mother support or clash with the Companion? What does each side need?
Mother + Amazon	How does the Mother support or clash with the Amazon? What does each side need?
Mother + Medial Woman	How does the Mother support or clash with the Medial Woman? What does each side need?
Companion + an unspecified other side	How does the Companion support or clash with the other side? What does each side need?
Companion + Mother	How does the Companion support or clash with the Mother? What does each side need?
Companion + Companion	How does the Companion support or clash with the Companion? What does each side need?
Companion + Amazon	How does the Companion support or clash with the Amazon? What does each side need?
Companion + Medial Woman	How does the Companion support or clash with the Medial Woman? What does each side need?
Amazon + an unspecified other side	How does the Amazon support or clash with the other side? What does each side need?
Amazon + Mother	How does the Amazon support or clash with the Mother? What does each side need?
Amazon + Companion	How does the Amazon support or clash with the Companion? What does each side need?
Amazon + Amazon	How does the Amazon support or clash with the Amazon? What does each side need?
Amazon + Medial Woman	How does the Amazon support or clash with the Medial Woman? What does each side need?
Medial Woman + an unspecified other side	How does the Medial Woman support or clash with the other side? What does each side need?
Medial Woman + Mother	How does the Medial Woman support or clash with the Mother? What does each side need?
Medial Woman + Companion	How does the Medial Woman support or clash with the Companion? What does each side need?
Medial Woman + Amazon	How does the Medial Woman support or clash with the Amazon? What does each side need?
Medial Woman + Medial Woman	How does the Medial Woman support or clash with the Medial Woman? What does each side need?

Other story purposes

For these purposes, the opening choice question is: Which archetype could help you understand a role in this situation?

Keep the selected archetype's developing-form and shadow questions. Replace only its Strength question with the matching wording below. Each purpose also has its own opening questions.

Communication & dialogue

ARCHETYPE	REPLACEMENT STRENGTH QUESTION
Mother	How does a person or role involved in this communication & dialogue, as the Mother, care for others while helping them become independent?
Companion	How does a person or role involved in this communication & dialogue, as the Companion, build closeness while leaving room for two distinct people?
Amazon	How does a person or role involved in this communication & dialogue, as the Amazon, pursue a purpose independently while accepting useful help?
Medial Woman	How does a person or role involved in this communication & dialogue, as the Medial Woman, give meaning to intuitions and turn them into responsible action?

Values & moral choices

ARCHETYPE	REPLACEMENT STRENGTH QUESTION
Mother	How does a person or role involved in this values & moral choices, as the Mother, care for others while helping them become independent?
Companion	How does a person or role involved in this values & moral choices, as the Companion, build closeness while leaving room for two distinct people?
Amazon	How does a person or role involved in this values & moral choices, as the Amazon, pursue a purpose independently while accepting useful help?
Medial Woman	How does a person or role involved in this values & moral choices, as the Medial Woman, give meaning to intuitions and turn them into responsible action?

Scene / encounter

ARCHETYPE	REPLACEMENT STRENGTH QUESTION
Mother	How does a person or role involved in this scene / encounter, as the Mother, care for others while helping them become independent?
Companion	How does a person or role involved in this scene / encounter, as the Companion, build closeness while leaving room for two distinct people?
Amazon	How does a person or role involved in this scene / encounter, as the Amazon, pursue a purpose independently while accepting useful help?
Medial Woman	How does a person or role involved in this scene / encounter, as the Medial Woman, give meaning to intuitions and turn them into responsible action?

Story / act arc

ARCHETYPE	REPLACEMENT STRENGTH QUESTION
Mother	How does a person or role involved in this story / act arc, as the Mother, care for others while helping them become independent?
Companion	How does a person or role involved in this story / act arc, as the Companion, build closeness while leaving room for two distinct people?
Amazon	How does a person or role involved in this story / act arc, as the Amazon, pursue a purpose independently while accepting useful help?
Medial Woman	How does a person or role involved in this story / act arc, as the Medial Woman, give meaning to intuitions and turn them into responsible action?

Learning & discovery

ARCHETYPE	REPLACEMENT STRENGTH QUESTION
Mother	How does a person or role involved in this learning & discovery, as the Mother, care for others while helping them become independent?
Companion	How does a person or role involved in this learning & discovery, as the Companion, build closeness while leaving room for two distinct people?
Amazon	How does a person or role involved in this learning & discovery, as the Amazon, pursue a purpose independently while accepting useful help?
Medial Woman	How does a person or role involved in this learning & discovery, as the Medial Woman, give meaning to intuitions and turn them into responsible action?

Voice & presentation

ARCHETYPE	REPLACEMENT STRENGTH QUESTION
Mother	How does a person or role involved in this voice & presentation, as the Mother, care for others while helping them become independent?
Companion	How does a person or role involved in this voice & presentation, as the Companion, build closeness while leaving room for two distinct people?
Amazon	How does a person or role involved in this voice & presentation, as the Amazon, pursue a purpose independently while accepting useful help?
Medial Woman	How does a person or role involved in this voice & presentation, as the Medial Woman, give meaning to intuitions and turn them into responsible action?

Optional path / no archetype selected

The wizard also allows you to skip the archetype choice. These are its general questions before a role is selected. They are included for completeness; selecting a role switches to the more specific questions above.

Character

1. Which archetype would you like to explore?

   Choices: Mother | Companion | Amazon | Medial Woman

2. How does this character show the healthy side of this archetype?
3. Under pressure, how might this character misuse their strength?
4. When this character withdraws or gives up, what does that look like?
5. What situation brings out a shadow, and what could help that role recover?

Relationships & groups

Replace the questions shown below; keep the other questions from the unselected Character path. Use the openings for this purpose.

1. Which archetype shapes one side of this relationship?
2. What role does the other side take, and what do they need from this side?
3. How do these roles support each other, and where do their needs clash?
4. How does this role become controlling, excessive, or harmful to the other side?
5. What happens between the sides when this role withdraws or gives up?
6. What could bring out the shadow, and what boundary or action could change the pattern?

Communication & dialogue

Replace the questions shown below; keep the other questions from the unselected Character path. Use the openings for this purpose.

1. Which archetype could help you understand a role in this situation?
2. How does a person or role involved in this communication & dialogue show the healthy side of this archetype?
3. Under pressure, how might a person or role involved in this communication & dialogue misuse their strength?
4. When a person or role involved in this communication & dialogue withdraws or gives up, what does that look like?

Values & moral choices

Replace the questions shown below; keep the other questions from the unselected Character path. Use the openings for this purpose.

1. Which archetype could help you understand a role in this situation?
2. How does a person or role involved in this values & moral choices show the healthy side of this archetype?
3. Under pressure, how might a person or role involved in this values & moral choices misuse their strength?
4. When a person or role involved in this values & moral choices withdraws or gives up, what does that look like?

Scene / encounter

Replace the questions shown below; keep the other questions from the unselected Character path. Use the openings for this purpose.

1. Which archetype could help you understand a role in this situation?
2. How does a person or role involved in this scene / encounter show the healthy side of this archetype?
3. Under pressure, how might a person or role involved in this scene / encounter misuse their strength?
4. When a person or role involved in this scene / encounter withdraws or gives up, what does that look like?

Story / act arc

Replace the questions shown below; keep the other questions from the unselected Character path. Use the openings for this purpose.

1. Which archetype could help you understand a role in this situation?
2. How does a person or role involved in this story / act arc show the healthy side of this archetype?
3. Under pressure, how might a person or role involved in this story / act arc misuse their strength?
4. When a person or role involved in this story / act arc withdraws or gives up, what does that look like?

Learning & discovery

Replace the questions shown below; keep the other questions from the unselected Character path. Use the openings for this purpose.

1. Which archetype could help you understand a role in this situation?
2. How does a person or role involved in this learning & discovery show the healthy side of this archetype?
3. Under pressure, how might a person or role involved in this learning & discovery misuse their strength?
4. When a person or role involved in this learning & discovery withdraws or gives up, what does that look like?

Voice & presentation

Replace the questions shown below; keep the other questions from the unselected Character path. Use the openings for this purpose.

1. Which archetype could help you understand a role in this situation?
2. How does a person or role involved in this voice & presentation show the healthy side of this archetype?
3. Under pressure, how might a person or role involved in this voice & presentation misuse their strength?
4. When a person or role involved in this voice & presentation withdraws or gives up, what does that look like?

12 / Jungian Masculine Archetypes

Explore responsibility, action, knowledge, and connection through strengths, developing forms, and shadows.

Best for: Character

Also useful for: Relationships & groups | Scene / encounter | Values & moral choices | Story / act arc

Start with the Character opening questions. Select an archetype below and use its development questions. To develop a relationship or another story purpose, use that purpose's openings and the exact replacements later in this chapter.

Choice question: Which archetype would you like to explore?

Choices: King | Warrior | Magician | Lover

King

Selected archetype: King

2. How does this character, as the King, create fair order, recognise others, and take responsibility?

    Leads by creating fair order, recognizing others, and accepting responsibility. In a story, tests of succession reveal whether the ruler serves the community or demands its service.

3. What remains of the Divine Child in this King, and where do they still need to grow?

    Divine Child · The Divine Child carries possibility, wonder, and a sense of precious potential. Growth means accepting limits while retaining hope and creativity.

4. What could push this King toward the Tyrant? Who would feel the effects?

    Tyrant · The Tyrant treats disagreement as disloyalty and controls others to protect a fragile position. A threatened ruler might punish the adviser who brings bad news. · High Chair Tyrant · The High Chair Tyrant expects every need to take priority and erupts when frustrated. Others become servants instead of people with needs of their own.

5. When this King gives up or withdraws, how does the Weakling appear? What responsibility or connection is lost?

    Weakling · The Weakling abandons responsibility and depends on others to provide direction. A leader might let a powerful courtier make every difficult decision. · Weakling Prince · The Weakling Prince waits to be rescued and doubts the ability to act. A promised heir might refuse a small responsibility for fear of failing.

6. What scene could test this King between its healthy side, the Tyrant, and the Weakling? What choice could change the pattern?

    Describe an observable choice and its consequences.

Warrior

Selected archetype: Warrior

2. How does this character, as the Warrior, use courage, discipline, and boundaries with restraint?

Uses courage, discipline, and boundaries in service of a chosen purpose. The dramatic test is whether strength can remain proportionate when anger or loyalty demands excess.

3. What remains of the Hero in this Warrior, and where do they still need to grow?

Hero · The Hero seeks independence through challenge and achievement. Growth means exchanging the need to prove invincibility for realistic courage and cooperation.

4. What could push this Warrior toward the Sadist? Who would feel the effects?

Sadist · The Sadist turns discipline into cruelty, enjoying domination or treating vulnerability as something to punish. Victory becomes an excuse to humiliate the defeated. · Grandstander Bully · The Grandstander Bully needs an audience for superiority and attacks those perceived as weaker. Boasting conceals fear of being ordinary or defeated.

5. When this Warrior gives up or withdraws, how does the Masochist appear? What responsibility or connection is lost?

Masochist · The Masochist endures needless harm and cannot defend personal limits. A loyal guard might accept exploitation because suffering feels like proof of worth. · Coward · The Coward avoids necessary confrontation and gives away agency to escape fear. The story can offer a small, achievable act of courage as a turning point.

6. What scene could test this Warrior between its healthy side, the Sadist, and the Masochist? What choice could change the pattern?

Describe an observable choice and its consequences.

Magician

Selected archetype: Magician

2. How does this character, as the Magician, use knowledge and craft, and share understanding responsibly?

Develops knowledge and craft, sees hidden patterns, and helps others understand change. The test is whether expertise will be shared responsibly when secrecy offers power.

3. What remains of the Precocious Child in this Magician, and where do they still need to grow?

Precocious Child · The Precocious Child is curious, inventive, and eager to understand. Growth requires humility: knowing an answer does not remove the need to learn or care.

4. What could push this Magician toward the Detached Manipulator? Who would feel the effects?

Detached Manipulator · The Detached Manipulator withholds knowledge to control outcomes and treats people as pieces in an experiment. An expert may engineer dependence by never explaining the solution. · Know-it-all Trickster · The Know-it-all Trickster uses cleverness to embarrass, deceive, or escape limits. Winning the argument becomes more important than discovering what is true.

5. When this Magician gives up or withdraws, how does the Denying Innocent One appear? What responsibility or connection is lost?

Denying Innocent One · The Denying Innocent One avoids accountability by pretending not to know or not to be involved. Useful knowledge is withheld behind claims of helplessness. · Dummy · The Dummy hides curiosity and ability to avoid expectations or exposure. A capable apprentice may act confused so that nobody can judge an honest attempt.

6. What scene could test this Magician between its healthy side, the Detached Manipulator, and the Denying Innocent One? What choice could change the pattern?

Describe an observable choice and its consequences.

Lover

Selected archetype: Lover

2. How does this character, as the Lover, bring feeling, imagination, and connection while respecting boundaries?

   Meets life with feeling, connection, imagination, and appreciation of beauty. The test is remaining open to experience while respecting boundaries and commitments.

3. What remains of the Oedipal Child in this Lover, and where do they still need to grow?

   Oedipal Child · The Oedipal Child seeks closeness, comfort, and an ideal source of love. Growth means allowing loved people to be separate and imperfect, while building wider relationships.

4. What could push this Lover toward the Addicted Lover? Who would feel the effects?

   Addicted Lover · The Addicted Lover chases intensity without limits, moving from one consuming experience to the next. Desire displaces commitments and never delivers lasting satisfaction. · Momma's Boy · Momma's Boy remains bound to an ideal caregiver and resists independent attachment. New relationships are compared with an impossible promise of perfect care.

5. When this Lover gives up or withdraws, how does the Impotent Lover appear? What responsibility or connection is lost?

   Impotent Lover · The Impotent Lover loses contact with feeling and pleasure. This symbolic label describes emotional disengagement: the character watches life without participating. · Dreamer · The Dreamer retreats into imagined love or adventure instead of risking real contact. A turning point asks for an imperfect relationship or action in the present.

6. What scene could test this Lover between its healthy side, the Addicted Lover, and the Impotent Lover? What choice could change the pattern?

   Describe an observable choice and its consequences.

Relationship questions

1. Which archetype shapes one side of this relationship?

   Choices: King | Warrior | Magician | Lover

   A writing lens. Any person can express several roles.

2. What role does the other side take, and what do they need from this side?

   Choices: King | Warrior | Magician | Lover

   You can choose another archetype or describe a different role.

Then use the development questions for the first archetype. Replace its Strength question (question 2 in its Character path) with the matching comparison below. The developing-form and shadow questions keep the same wording. A second selected archetype also shows its healthy-role description in the application.

FIRST ROLE + OTHER SIDE	REPLACEMENT STRENGTH QUESTION
King + an unspecified other side	How does the King support or clash with the other side? What does each side need?
King + King	How does the King support or clash with the King? What does each side need?
King + Warrior	How does the King support or clash with the Warrior? What does each side need?
King + Magician	How does the King support or clash with the Magician? What does each side need?
King + Lover	How does the King support or clash with the Lover? What does each side need?
Warrior + an unspecified other side	How does the Warrior support or clash with the other side? What does each side need?

FIRST ROLE + OTHER SIDE	REPLACEMENT STRENGTH QUESTION
Warrior + King	How does the Warrior support or clash with the King? What does each side need?
Warrior + Warrior	How does the Warrior support or clash with the Warrior? What does each side need?
Warrior + Magician	How does the Warrior support or clash with the Magician? What does each side need?
Warrior + Lover	How does the Warrior support or clash with the Lover? What does each side need?
Magician + an unspecified other side	How does the Magician support or clash with the other side? What does each side need?
Magician + King	How does the Magician support or clash with the King? What does each side need?
Magician + Warrior	How does the Magician support or clash with the Warrior? What does each side need?
Magician + Magician	How does the Magician support or clash with the Magician? What does each side need?
Magician + Lover	How does the Magician support or clash with the Lover? What does each side need?
Lover + an unspecified other side	How does the Lover support or clash with the other side? What does each side need?
Lover + King	How does the Lover support or clash with the King? What does each side need?
Lover + Warrior	How does the Lover support or clash with the Warrior? What does each side need?
Lover + Magician	How does the Lover support or clash with the Magician? What does each side need?
Lover + Lover	How does the Lover support or clash with the Lover? What does each side need?

Other story purposes

For these purposes, the opening choice question is: Which archetype could help you understand a role in this situation?

Keep the selected archetype's developing-form and shadow questions. Replace only its Strength question with the matching wording below. Each purpose also has its own opening questions.

Communication & dialogue

ARCHETYPE	REPLACEMENT STRENGTH QUESTION
King	How does a person or role involved in this communication & dialogue, as the King, create fair order, recognise others, and take responsibility?
Warrior	How does a person or role involved in this communication & dialogue, as the Warrior, use courage, discipline, and boundaries with restraint?
Magician	How does a person or role involved in this communication & dialogue, as the Magician, use knowledge and craft, and share understanding responsibly?
Lover	How does a person or role involved in this communication & dialogue, as the Lover, bring feeling, imagination, and connection while respecting boundaries?

Values & moral choices

ARCHETYPE	REPLACEMENT STRENGTH QUESTION
King	How does a person or role involved in this values & moral choices, as the King, create fair order, recognise others, and take responsibility?
Warrior	How does a person or role involved in this values & moral choices, as the Warrior, use courage, discipline, and boundaries with restraint?
Magician	How does a person or role involved in this values & moral choices, as the Magician, use knowledge and craft, and share understanding responsibly?
Lover	How does a person or role involved in this values & moral choices, as the Lover, bring feeling, imagination, and connection while respecting boundaries?

Scene / encounter

ARCHETYPE	REPLACEMENT STRENGTH QUESTION
King	How does a person or role involved in this scene / encounter, as the King, create fair order, recognise others, and take responsibility?
Warrior	How does a person or role involved in this scene / encounter, as the Warrior, use courage, discipline, and boundaries with restraint?
Magician	How does a person or role involved in this scene / encounter, as the Magician, use knowledge and craft, and share understanding responsibly?
Lover	How does a person or role involved in this scene / encounter, as the Lover, bring feeling, imagination, and connection while respecting boundaries?

Story / act arc

ARCHETYPE	REPLACEMENT STRENGTH QUESTION
King	How does a person or role involved in this story / act arc, as the King, create fair order, recognise others, and take responsibility?
Warrior	How does a person or role involved in this story / act arc, as the Warrior, use courage, discipline, and boundaries with restraint?
Magician	How does a person or role involved in this story / act arc, as the Magician, use knowledge and craft, and share understanding responsibly?
Lover	How does a person or role involved in this story / act arc, as the Lover, bring feeling, imagination, and connection while respecting boundaries?

Learning & discovery

ARCHETYPE	REPLACEMENT STRENGTH QUESTION
King	How does a person or role involved in this learning & discovery, as the King, create fair order, recognise others, and take responsibility?
Warrior	How does a person or role involved in this learning & discovery, as the Warrior, use courage, discipline, and boundaries with restraint?
Magician	How does a person or role involved in this learning & discovery, as the Magician, use knowledge and craft, and share understanding responsibly?
Lover	How does a person or role involved in this learning & discovery, as the Lover, bring feeling, imagination, and connection while respecting boundaries?

Voice & presentation

ARCHETYPE	REPLACEMENT STRENGTH QUESTION
King	How does a person or role involved in this voice & presentation, as the King, create fair order, recognise others, and take responsibility?
Warrior	How does a person or role involved in this voice & presentation, as the Warrior, use courage, discipline, and boundaries with restraint?
Magician	How does a person or role involved in this voice & presentation, as the Magician, use knowledge and craft, and share understanding responsibly?
Lover	How does a person or role involved in this voice & presentation, as the Lover, bring feeling, imagination, and connection while respecting boundaries?

Optional path / no archetype selected

The wizard also allows you to skip the archetype choice. These are its general questions before a role is selected. They are included for completeness; selecting a role switches to the more specific questions above.

Character

1. Which archetype would you like to explore?

   Choices: King | Warrior | Magician | Lover

2. How does this character show the healthy side of this archetype?
3. What younger or less experienced side of this character still shows through?
4. Under pressure, how might this character misuse their strength?
5. When this character withdraws or gives up, what does that look like?
6. What situation brings out a shadow, and what could help that role recover?

Relationships & groups

Replace the questions shown below; keep the other questions from the unselected Character path. Use the openings for this purpose.

1. Which archetype shapes one side of this relationship?
2. What role does the other side take, and what do they need from this side?
3. How do these roles support each other, and where do their needs clash?
4. What younger or less experienced side of the person or group on this side still shows through?
5. How does this role become controlling, excessive, or harmful to the other side?
6. What happens between the sides when this role withdraws or gives up?
7. What could bring out the shadow, and what boundary or action could change the pattern?

Communication & dialogue

Replace the questions shown below; keep the other questions from the unselected Character path. Use the openings for this purpose.

1. Which archetype could help you understand a role in this situation?
2. How does a person or role involved in this communication & dialogue show the healthy side of this archetype?
3. What younger or less experienced side of a person or role involved in this communication & dialogue still shows through?
4. Under pressure, how might a person or role involved in this communication & dialogue misuse their strength?
5. When a person or role involved in this communication & dialogue withdraws or gives up, what does that look like?

Values & moral choices

Replace the questions shown below; keep the other questions from the unselected Character path. Use the openings for this purpose.

1. Which archetype could help you understand a role in this situation?
2. How does a person or role involved in this values & moral choices show the healthy side of this archetype?
3. What younger or less experienced side of a person or role involved in this values & moral choices still shows through?
4. Under pressure, how might a person or role involved in this values & moral choices misuse their strength?
5. When a person or role involved in this values & moral choices withdraws or gives up, what does that look like?

Scene / encounter

Replace the questions shown below; keep the other questions from the unselected Character path. Use the openings for this purpose.

1. Which archetype could help you understand a role in this situation?
2. How does a person or role involved in this scene / encounter show the healthy side of this archetype?
3. What younger or less experienced side of a person or role involved in this scene / encounter still shows through?
4. Under pressure, how might a person or role involved in this scene / encounter misuse their strength?
5. When a person or role involved in this scene / encounter withdraws or gives up, what does that look like?

Story / act arc

Replace the questions shown below; keep the other questions from the unselected Character path. Use the openings for this purpose.

1. Which archetype could help you understand a role in this situation?
2. How does a person or role involved in this story / act arc show the healthy side of this archetype?
3. What younger or less experienced side of a person or role involved in this story / act arc still shows through?
4. Under pressure, how might a person or role involved in this story / act arc misuse their strength?
5. When a person or role involved in this story / act arc withdraws or gives up, what does that look like?

Learning & discovery

Replace the questions shown below; keep the other questions from the unselected Character path. Use the openings for this purpose.

1. Which archetype could help you understand a role in this situation?
2. How does a person or role involved in this learning & discovery show the healthy side of this archetype?
3. What younger or less experienced side of a person or role involved in this learning & discovery still shows through?
4. Under pressure, how might a person or role involved in this learning & discovery misuse their strength?
5. When a person or role involved in this learning & discovery withdraws or gives up, what does that look like?

Voice & presentation

Replace the questions shown below; keep the other questions from the unselected Character path. Use the openings for this purpose.

1. Which archetype could help you understand a role in this situation?
2. How does a person or role involved in this voice & presentation show the healthy side of this archetype?
3. What younger or less experienced side of a person or role involved in this voice & presentation still shows through?
4. Under pressure, how might a person or role involved in this voice & presentation misuse their strength?
5. When a person or role involved in this voice & presentation withdraws or gives up, what does that look like?